MISSOURI JOBS WITH JUSTICE

2019 Ad Book
Missouri Jobs with Justice is a coalition of more than 100 community, labor, student and faith-based groups committed to fighting together for economic justice. Working together in 2019 we defeated egregious assaults on workers’ rights and succeeded in defending important protections for Missouri’s working people.

Missouri Jobs with Justice brings people together to form a strong statewide movement capable of responding quickly whenever action is needed. By organizing in our workplaces, our communities, our campuses and our congregations we are able to win concrete victories on the issues that matter most for working families.

Missouri Jobs with Justice is part of a national network of local community, faith, student, and labor coalitions that is building a national movement for workers’ rights and economic justice.

Missouri Jobs with Justice wins concrete victories for Missouri’s working people. We are action-oriented. During each year, members and organizations take the Jobs with Justice Pledge to “be there” at least five times for someone else’s fight as well as their own. That means joining picket lines, attending rallies and participating in other actions or demonstrations for economic and social justice.

In addition to assisting member organizations with “street heat,” Missouri Jobs with Justice coordinates Workers’ Rights Boards, justice oriented community leaders who use their moral authority to create a highly visible public forum to defend workers’ rights.

Missouri Jobs with Justice’s regional Leadership Teams build and strengthen alliances among member organizations in their communities. Currently, regional Leadership Teams meet regularly in St. Louis, Kansas City, Springfield, and Columbia and representatives from other regions participate in a statewide executive board.

While there are many ways Missouri Jobs with Justice builds solidarity, the most important is mobilizing members to take to the street in support of each others’ campaigns.

CATHOLIC PRINCIPLES OF SOCIAL ETHICS

SOLIDARITY
The right and need of human groups to work together for social justice.

SUBSIDIARITY
Bottom up, not top down. Workers and minorities start social justice changes in families and social groups such as labor unions.

- The UNIONS should resist the temptation of "becoming too similar to the institutions and powers that they should instead criticize. The UNION, with the passing of time, has ended up resembling politics, or rather, political parties, their language, their style,"... Without the prophetic voice, a UNION'S "actions within businesses will lose Strength and Effectiveness."

- "INNOVATION"... although the UNION must watch over those within its care, it must also work for those outside its walls in order to innovate and protect those "who do not yet have rights." UNIONS are especially valuable when they speak on behalf of the poor, the immigrant, and the person returning from prison.

EVERYDAY Missouri Rural Crisis Center members work to preserve family farms and independent family farm livestock production, prevent environmental degradation, promote stewardship of the land and a safe, affordable high-quality food supply, create affordable and accessible healthcare systems and defend justice and economic opportunity in both rural and urban communities through on-the-ground organizing and democratic engagement.

Patchwork Family Farms is a economic development project of the Missouri Rural Crisis Center. Patchwork is made up of independent family hog farmers who believe in raising the high-quality pork the traditional way, while supporting local economies, protecting the environment and sustaining our rural traditions. To find out where you can get Patchwork Family Farm pork, please call us at 573-449-1336 or email patchwork@morural.org.

Missouri Rural Crisis Center and Patchwork Family Farms value strong, long-time allies like Missouri Jobs with Justice! Our collaborative urban/rural organizing campaigns gives us the opportunity to work together on shared priority issues such as curbing excessive corporate power and the devastating effects that corporate policies have had on both rural and urban communities.

The Jobs with Justice “Be There” Pledge

I’ll be There...

- standing up for our rights as working people to a decent standard of living.
- supporting the right of all workers to organize and bargain collectively.
- fighting to secure family-wage jobs in the face of corporate attacks on working people and our communities.
- organizing the unorganized to take aggressive action to secure a better economic future for all of us.
- mobilizing those already organized to join the fight for jobs with justice.

During the next year, I’LL BE THERE at least five times for someone else’s fight, as well as my own.

If enough of us are there, we’ll all start winning.
